LEARN COMPUTER PROGRAMMING

with

10-Week Evening Class Starting October 17

>>> `Python` is a popular, general-purpose programming language

- Easy to learn
- Powerful
- Versatile
- Interactive

- Efficient
- Runs on most computers
- Open source
- Free to use!

This is a beginners course suitable for anyone who has never programmed before or for people with some programming experience wanting to learn Python. No computer science degree needed!

Why learn computer programming?

> Automate the boring stuff
> Be more efficient at work
> Make better decisions
> Analyze complex data
> Solve problems
> Make games
> Express your creativity
> Build intelligent machines
> Explore your inner geek

Where:	Vancouver Hackerspace (VHS), #104-1715 Cook St.
When:	6-8pm, Mondays, October 17, 2016 to January 9, 2017 (except Dec 26 and Jan 2).
Cost:	$10 per night ($5 for VHS members) up to $80 ($40) for all ten classes.
Contact:	<insert temp email here>, 778-378-6539 for more info.
Note:	Participants must bring a laptop computer.